

Inman Park Festival Parade

Welcome to the Inman Park Festival Parade !

The Inman Park Parade will make its annual roll through the streets of Inman Park at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 29, 2006. Now in its 345^h year, the parade is Atlanta's quirkiest and most colorful parade, led by the Inman Park Butterfly, followed by floats, bands, art cars, politicians, drill teams, mascots, Kelly's Seed and Feed Marching Abominables, clowns, jugglers, and many more, closed by the Inman Park Trash Queen, riding aloft a city street sweeper.

The parade begins on Edgewood Avenue at Spruce Street, follows Edgewood to Hurt Street, Hurt Street to Euclid Avenue and Euclid Avenue to Moreland Avenue where it disbands. The approximate length is 1 mile. There are approximately 75 units in the parade and admission is free. Self built floats are judged by a panel of neighborhood artists and cash prizes are awarded for First, Second and Third place. All parade units must report to the staging area on Edgewood between Krog and Spruce Streets at 1:00 p.m.
